

A Time For Planning

The current prospect of long term financial stability for KRAB was anticipated 22 years ago by Lorenzo Milam when he founded the station on a commercial frequency. What is the prospect? After paying the legal and brokerage fees and all of our back debts, about one half of the one million dollar down payment remains. The money has been placed in government secured investments. The rest of the payment of three million will come to us over a period of nine years. During the current planning period, our budget will remain low. To be careful, we must save and invest a substantial part of our interest income into our capital fund.

We plan for a new KRAB our traditional listeners will recognize and applaud. Our philosophy and programming goals will be the same, but now we will have the ability to meet them.

For planning, the board has appointed three committees: The finance committee will develop guidelines for investments and will develop an operating budget. The building/facilities committee will review the immediate need to finish our parking lot and bring our building up to code. It will also study the requirements necessary for a first class production facility. The staffing committee will study our immediate and long term needs for the organization of our operations and will develop job descriptions and a staffing plan.

We are still using our facility to produce programs. We have volunteers on line to work with us on our construction and engineering plans. After the Folklife Festival we have plans to continue producing programs for broadcast by other local stations and for our use when we return to the air.

We remain at the same office with the same address and phone number. If you have questions or comments, please feel free to write or call us.
